DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 3, 2005 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

The response filed August 3, 2005 has been entered and considered.

Claims 1-3, 5-12, and 14-17 are pending.

Claims 4, and 13 have been cancelled.

Claims 1-7, 9, 11, 12, and 14-16 are currently amended.

An action on the merits of claims 1-3, 5-12, and 14-17 follows.

Art Unit: 3625

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-3, 8-12, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kahn (U.S. Patent No. 6,135,646).

Kahn discloses a method for managing virtual properties (col. 2, lines 17-46) comprising: maintaining an inventory in a centralized database (col. 5, lines 61-63); allowing transfer of ownership (col. 6, lines 32-46); maintaining updated records regarding ownership (col. 6, lines 29-31); and allowing property owners to use but not possess digital copies of said respective virtual properties (col. 5, lines 66-col. 6, line 7). The inventory may be searched (col. 8, lines 6-16) and records regarding ownership are updated by association of an owner with a property (col. 4, lines 25-35). Items not already in inventory may be added (col. 4, lines 46-56).

Kahn similarly discloses a system having the above-noted functionality.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3625

Claims 5-7 and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kahn et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,135,646) in view of Martinez et al. (WO 98/47091).

Although Kahn et al. discloses transfer of ownership, Kahn et al. does not detail such transfer as by selling, trading or winning (as in a game).

Martinez et al, however, in a virtual environment supporting the use and transaction of virtual property (page 3, lines 1-11), teaches that virtual property may be sold, traded or won (see page 23, line 15-page 24, line 3).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided the method and system of Kahn et al. to have included the selling, trading, and winning of virtual property in order to have established traditional features of ownership and property rights in a virtual realm (such as in the computer network of Kahn et al. (see Martinez et al. at page lines 2, lines 14-24).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
